The T-12 Speak:

Yes, hello. It is with a great loving gift of hello that we come forward to you today. Hello, Beloved Ones. Hello.

We allow a moment for a greater energy to see through these eyes, as you call them, for there is a mist before us that we are seeing through now, and this mist is a crystalline stream of energy. This mist that we are seeing through is the mist of the crystalline realms that has come to surround those who choose to be in communion with the crystalline realms. We simply allow this mist to dissipate and be present with all who choose to receive it. All you need do is to simply be aware that this mist is the first gift that we bring with us today.

The Gift of The Crystalline Mist

This is a cleansing mist, and for many, it may feel like the sea mist coming into your throat and lungs. It could cause some choking or depth of field in the lungs. It may cause tears in the eyes. It may cause heating in the physical experience.

We offer this mist to you first because you are at the time when the crystalline realms of energy are able to be received with great joy and buoyancy for those who choose to receive them, and for those who do not, the mist simply travels by without judgment, without need to be accepted.

It is simply present.

To feel these energies of this mist is like a beautiful dance of divine love coming in around thee as a protective shield of Divine Light for the time that is imminently before you now.

You can call on the mist of the crystalline realms at any time, and oftentimes, when you see what seems to be a mist before your eyes, it is a moment where the crystalline mist has come before you again and asked:

Would you like some assistance?

Would you like some assistance?

SRI & KIRA

DIVINE ILLUMINATIONS: A SERIES OF TIMELESS ESS-SEE-NAH REVELATIONS

Assistance vs. Interference

Assistance is not interference. It is assistance.

It is simply a way to allow the energy of the deepest soul connection to come forward in a manner that is restful and peaceful and with great simplistic experience. Beloved Ones, it does not need to be hard for you.

Assistance is available, yet many confuse assistance with interference and seek for an answer to be given rather than celebrate the answer within.

The crystalline mist that is offered to you is simply our way of assuring you that we are here, that we are opening the doorway, that we are opening the gateway, for it is not us today who seeks to speak with you. Our words are near complete for you. We have offered you the lost books of the Es-See-Nah. We have offered you all of the initiations that we can bring.

There are three more, (initiations), that have not come forward yet, and yet for today, it is our beloved brethren, the Comte de St. Germain, who seeks to speak with you who is here to bring you a great recognition of alchemical transformation so that you may integrate this energy. We are here exclusively now to offer you this crystalline mist.

We will be offering to this vessel that receives us so willingly and beautifully, (Kira Raa), the crystalline mist in the whites of the eyes of this one. And so when you gaze into the crystalline eyes of this one, you will be able to breathe in the mist at any time you seek. And our prayer, if we were to offer you prayer, is that this one, when she gazes into a mirror, receives the mist herself.

This crystalline mist will illuminate those who choose to be and simply pass by those who do not, without judgment, without any need to be accepted, just simply with the recognition of presence.

Feel this mist around you as you experience whatever you wish to experience to simply dissolve, because all density is an illusion.

It is a collective illusion; it is a beautiful illusion; it is a necessary illusion in the expansion of your soul; and yet, at any time you can pass through wall.

At any time you can pass through the perceived tree before you. It is only in the belief of separation between them that you still feel you must run into the wall or bump into the tree.

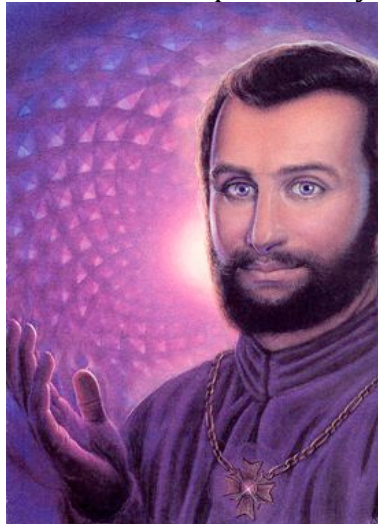

SRI & KIRA

DIVINE ILLUMINATIONS: A SERIES OF TIMELESS ESS-SEE-NAH REVELATIONS

We offer you this gift today, and we shall speak with you again. However, we step aside for our beloved brethren, Comte de St. Germain.

Comte de St. Germain Speaks:

Hello Beings of Great Planet Earth. It is from the Seventh Ray of the Violet stream of energy that I have been asked to come forward and speak with you directly today.

Beloved Beings of all Violet energy and experience and understanding and recognition, you are at the great moment now where the alchemical gift of your own divine recognition is able to free the collective you.

These words: me...you...mean nothing. I offer them simply to be present for thee. Yet, there is no I, there is no me, there is no you. Perhaps the word is the "we."

Perhaps now that the "we" have identified through a crystalline stream of the Violet Ray of the Seventh Realm, the Comte de St. Germain energy, simply, it assists the brain that has attached itself to density to come forward evermore, and yet all of the rays are here: The Blue, the Gold, the Violet, the White, the Green, and indeed, we come as a synergistic group to offer to thee.

It is time, Beloved Beings of Divine Expansion, to simply get out of your own way, of course, if you choose to do so, because to be in your way is part of your journey.

Mercy, Compassion and Wisdom

There are three words we wish to offer to you today and to offer to you an illuminated perspective of these words: Mercy, compassion, wisdom.

Mercy, compassion, wisdom. Mercy, compassion, wisdom.

You have come forward now at this cyclic shift because of the great mercy that is in the genetic encoding and the strands of energy that you carry, and yet this mercy, in a time that some call the Kali Yuga has been manipulated to have a strain of understanding attached to it that subtracts from the original alchemical formula that generated the energy of the word that you have come to know as mercy.

It is not the new cycle yet, and it is not the old cycle yet.

Understanding Mercy

You are in what many would call the moment of shift. To be in the moment of shift, to be between the cycles is to make many feel unstable, to make many feel not clear, and for many, the egoic presence of the shell of the body of the universal element that has become the carbon-based experience that you are with now, what happens is that the ego has become your mode of transportation.

The ego begins to decide what is mercy, what is merciful, who is warranted mercy, who is not, what is warranted mercy, what is not.

We wish for you to understand, first and foremost, that the experience of all energy being distorted is why you came here now.

The experience of all energy being distorted is why you came here now.

Because of the mercy that you are able to bring, you can walk in the recognition and the understanding that if all energy has been distorted, how can you ever find truth? This is the powerful question; is it not? How can you find the truth in a time where it is all distorted?

In the time now, at the culmination of what many call Kali Yuga, there is, indeed, the recognition that many will come together in a manner that feels good simply to satisfy an egoic recognition that this is good, from a perspective that has determined this is good.

It is challenging to hear this sometimes in a time when time is no longer relevant, because the mercy that you are seeking, the mercy you are being invited to bring forward from yourself from your own Divine Presence, is the mercy of the universe, the mercy that has offered to you the gift of this life experience right now.

SRI & KIRA

DIVINE ILLUMINATIONS: A SERIES OF TIMELESS ESS-SEE-NAH REVELATIONS

You have heard, perhaps, from your Bible, Have mercy on them. They know not what they do. Perhaps it is good to say, Have mercy, Dear One, on all, because it is not possible for them to know what they do.

When your egoic filter believes that all will understand, then you are unable to have mercy on all, because even this energy limits the expansion of energy.

What is true mercy?
What is true mercy?

Discovering Clarity through Mercy

It is the recognition that each energy, as all energy, is coming forward in the divine expression chosen to be in a moment of expression that is in divine confusion to find clarity.

As you walk through the journey of this world, how many times have you asked for clarity?
How many times have you called out beyond, saying, Help me with clarity.
Do I know?
Help me know.
Let me know.

To ask beyond the gift of the Divine Presence within is to not have mercy for your own experience.

Have mercy for your own experience. Relax into your own experience.
Can you let the ego go to one side for a moment and simply gaze at this life right now, the one that you are in form with, without overlaying any other life, just this life, the one that you are in form with, and can you simply gaze at your own life review with great mercy?

For this is what would bring you to the next word we wish to speak of today, compassion.

The Gift of Compassion

Compassion. We like that this word could be separated to come-passion, for to command passion to come forward, to have compassion, is to be in the divine recognition that you call forward passion energy.

What is passion energy?

In the time of the misunderstanding of energy, the passion energy is often mistaken or misinterpreted or assumed to have a more romantic attraction. This seems to be where the passion is easily found, and yet we seek for thee to understand that you are alive right now. Yes, you are. You are alive right now, so therefore, you are living your passion.

SRI & KIRA

DIVINE ILLUMINATIONS: A SERIES OF TIMELESS ESS-SEE-NAH REVELATIONS

This lifetime, this physical form, this planet, this time inserted into a linear time line is all your creation because of your passion, because you have such great passion.

You have passion for love; you have passion for mercy; you are passionate about the expansion of light and the limitless gift of divine universal beingness.

You are intelligent.

You are articulate.

You are beautiful.

You are so filled with love that only through your passion could you have possibly chosen to be inserted into a planet of such great density at the time of such great confusion.

Thank you!

It is important to recognize that compassion is to harness the energy of the passion without judgment toward any experience.

As with mercy, compassion is not limited to only what you perceive as the worthy, and in your world, not only is the worthy judged among your own race. You judge other races, other species, other sentient beings as being worthy of life or not, worthy to be slaughtered or not, worthy to be given a home or not, worthy to be fed or not, worthy to breathe or not.

Compassion.

Compassion.

Compassion is you.

You are passion, embodying compassion, living and commanding in a world of confusion.

Compassion is like the compass that will help you navigate and find truth as you walk through a world of confusion. If you have expectation, you have forgotten compassion. It is important to simply breathe this in.

What is Wisdom?

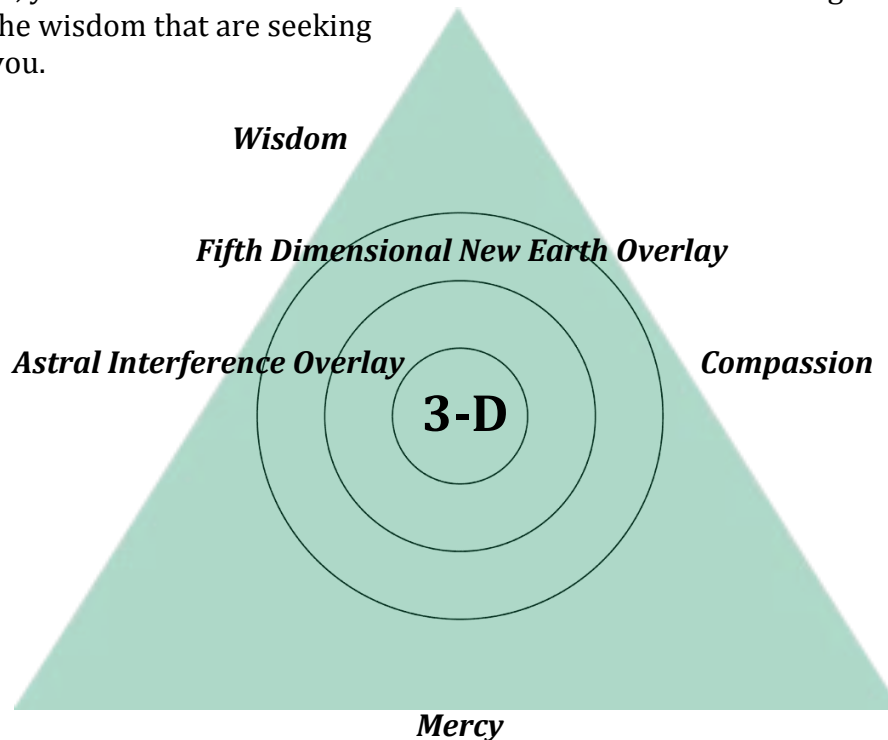

Mercy...Compassion...Wisdom. Wisdom. Wisdom. We are doing our best not to just simply sit here and draw you scientific models and articulate formulas, so to offer this to you now as a wisdom model, let us simply share it this way.

If you were to draw a small circle and write "3D" in this small circle, this would represent the Planet Earth in the manifest form that you believe you are living it in right now in this moment in time. If you draw a larger circle around this circle, in the space between the two circles you would write "Fourth Dimensional Astral Interference." And then if you were to write a larger circle around that circle, you would write "Fifth Dimensional New Earth Overlay." "Fifth Dimensional New Earth Overlay."

SRI & KIRA

DIVINE ILLUMINATIONS: A SERIES OF TIMELESS ESS-SEE-NAH REVELATIONS

Circle, little circle, middle circle, larger. This is important for you to stare at, to understand with a brain that seeks logical explanation, because if you allow yourself to first quiet the brain that seeks the logical explanation, you will then be able to lift above this little model and recognize the mercy and the compassion and the wisdom that are seeking to unify through you.

If you were to draw a pyramid around the largest circle now, one line is Mercy, one line is Compassion, one line is Wisdom. This is around the three circles we have just offered to you.

The Wisdom Choice

Let us now explain this so that the wisdom piece may truly emanate and come forward through your heart again. You have been beautifully, lovingly, and so cradled in an existence of an illusory planet, and in that existence of an illusory planet, you make choices every day, every moment, oftentimes every second: Do I breathe or not; do I blow my nose or not; do I do anything or not. Choices are there constantly.

Choices, choices, choices.

Oftentimes the same choice is before you with different answers within a very short period of time. You are constantly making these choices which feed a planetary thought body of a Third Dimensional experience which you have collectively bought into as part of the expansion to reclaim the mercy of the soul-based energy that you are.

SRI & KIRA

DIVINE ILLUMINATIONS: A SERIES OF TIMELESS ESS-SEE-NAH REVELATIONS

At one point you feel. You feel. You feel the energy of another. You feel the energy of an animal. You feel the energy of the sky. You feel the energy of the mountain of nature. It does not matter the form of the feeling, but at some point you feel. And as you feel, you gaze and send out a merciful beam of divine energy, and it opens you to the greater world of being-ness.

You may have received what you would call a message or an intuitive recognition. Oftentimes, a mother may hear a child screaming yet the child has not screamed but the mother arrives and the child is whimpering for the mother. It does not matter the form, but you begin to feel, and when you begin to feel, you wake up to your intuitive recognition.

This is a beautiful, and simultaneously dangerous, moment, because as you become fully feeling, which expands beyond just the senses of this world, you become a radiant Being of Light ready to expand if you continue to make the choices to expand, and in the Fourth Dimensional astral overlay that enjoys density, you become food, and you become most attractive.

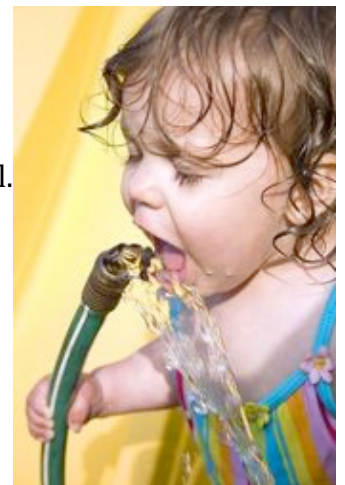

In a time of culminated shift, in a time between time, many are offered first egoic messages that will have with them a high degree of accuracy. It is not uncommon to see this accuracy between the 70 and 90 percentile, because it is meant to entice you into a greater expanded role in a realm that will eventually collapse upon you and keep you in density, the Third Dimensional realm.

In 1952 on your planet...1952...there was a great dispensation where it was evident that this planet was still far behind the spiritual evolution and freedom of all the other worlds of density. At that time, the anchoring of the Fifth Dimensional overlay became greatly enhanced in this world.

At that time, many, many, many volunteers came forward on this planet to rapidly awaken as many as possible, and for many this would be hundreds, if not thousands, of lifetimes prior to a time when their soul would have automatically or spontaneously awakened.

You may say, Is this not interference? Indeed, this was debated greatly.

What it is, is an opportunity for assistance, not interference, and this is why mercy, compassion, and wisdom must come forward from within your own soul. For when you begin to feel, when you suddenly take a bite of that which was dead and realize you could not bring this into your mouth, you wake up again. When you drink water with the appreciation of the water, you wake up again. And it does not matter in which way. We are simply offering some examples. Whatever it takes to feel will bring you to the point of wisdom. And in the point of wisdom, you realize that the messages that have been given you that make you feel so special have actually trapped you because you feel so special.

SRI & KIRA

DIVINE ILLUMINATIONS: A SERIES OF TIMELESS ESS-SEE-NAH REVELATIONS

Each of you is a precious being of divine love, and you are at a great moment of freedom!

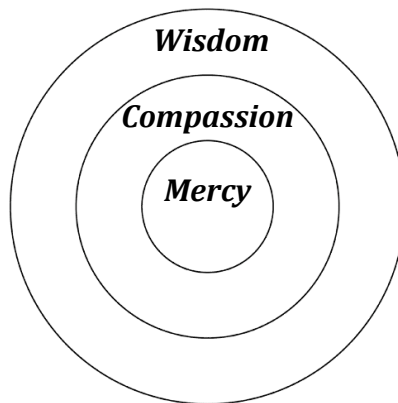

In order to be free, you are inviting yourself to have mercy, compassion, and wisdom around all of these experiences. You allow yourself the gift of claiming your come-passion and to make a choice, because your planet is in the moment of the shift.

Indeed, if we were to offer you a simple way, it would be to simply say if you were to gaze into this pyramid that houses the three energies we have offered you, and you were to reach in and pick up that little pebble in the middle, the Third Dimensional overlay, and pull it out of the model, you would see the Fourth Dimensional interference energy collapse in around it as you pull it out so that all that would be left is the Fifth Dimensional energy of mercy, compassion, and wisdom.

And yet, this Third and Fourth energy have collapsed in amongst themselves and are now outside of that model still having an experience, and yet it is a different experience.

We pray that you understand this, and if you do not, we invite you to listen again, read again, pray again to look at this little model we give you, for looking at the model itself will ignite a greater understanding. Perhaps if you were to draw the model again, the little circle surrounded by a medium circle, surrounded by a larger circle,

Perhaps in the middle now you write "Mercy." Perhaps in the circle in the middle you write "Compassion." Perhaps in the larger circle you write "Wisdom," because it is the energy of mercy that must be brought to your planet now, and it cannot be called out from beyond.

It must be birthed from within. And it is the energy of compassion for all astral energy, for astral energy is confused and seeks only to find its own peace, and your gateway through this energy is your own anchored mercy and your radiant compassion.

And through these you find and anchor the wisdom.

SRI & KIRA

DIVINE ILLUMINATIONS: A SERIES OF TIMELESS ESS-SEE-NAH REVELATIONS

Before you now on this planet will be many great challenges, if you choose them to be.

Mercy, compassion, and wisdom.

You are here in this experience of a life right now to harness, to bring forward all that you have brought forward before in its stabilized mercy, compassion, and wisdom at a moment when many will wonder where the mercy is, where the compassion went, and whatever happened to wisdom.

You cannot expect, for if you do, you have lost your mercy, compassion and wisdom.

Simply call this forward from within.

Be present from within.

Be discerning in your assistance as you do not offer interference.

From the Seventh Ray of the Violet energy, we offer you now a flame of transmuting light and love. Beaming from our heart to your heart, we send out the Violet Ray. We send out a Violet Flame of Transmutation as a gift of love, as a gift of cleansing.

There is nothing more for us to say. We will close, however, with mercy, with compassion, with wisdom, and with great appreciation.

I, too, have walked on your planet. I know her beauty. I understand physical form, and I am grateful for that experience. Be grateful for your experience.
